The President's Message

Welcome to the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League!

I'm excited to serve as the 2022 – 2023 Dallas Symphony Orchestra League President and cannot wait for all of our wonderful events this season.

We are launching a new website to facilitate membership, events, and more and are thrilled with the improvements to come. We don't want you to miss out on any events so make sure you register and activate your membership on the new website.

We provide our members with many opportunities to serve, socialize, and support through our DSO Youth Concerts, DSOL Teas, Fashion Notes, Junior Symphony Ball, Presentation Ball, and Savor the Symphony. With your help and support the DSOL will be able to raise funds to support the education and outreach programs of the Dallas Symphony. We are changing lives every year and I am thrilled to support the DSOL as President.

I look forward to greeting the new Board Members on Thursday, September Sept 22 for a DSOL Board Welcome Meet and Greet, 4-6 at Dallas Country Club. Our first board meeting will be Tuesday, Sept 27.

Our Fall Membership tea will be September 13 at Arlington Hall. Thank you to Kay Weeks for chairing this. Please join us for the October 13th Fashion Notes Designer Award Presentation, Runway Show and Luncheon. Fashion Notes Chairs Sharon Lee Clark and Kira Nasrat have planned a wonderful event for us with St. John fashions and Bachendorf's fine jewelry. They will kick-off the 9th annual Fashion Notes Luncheon and Style Show on October 13, 2022 at the Fairmont Dallas. This year's featured Designer Award will be presented to designer Lele Sadoughi and Honorary Chairs will be Patsy Donosky and Janie Donosky Condon.

I am looking forward to our year ahead together.

Cynthia Beaird

PLACES TO GO

Dallas Symphony Orchestra League Receives Award at Conference in the Nation’s Capital

Association of Major Symphony Orchestra Volunteers (AMSOV) North American Biennial Conference held in Washington, D.C. The Dallas Symphony Orchestra League was a recipient of the Innovator Award from Association of Major Symphony Orchestra Volunteers (AMSOV) in recognition for their Junior Symphony Ball (JSB). The JSB was carefully executed by more than 750 committee members with over 2800 students from 35 schools attending the celebratory evening with dinner, dancing and music, raising a record setting $446,000.

A delegation of Dallas symphony patrons attended AMSOV’s 43rd North American Biennial Conference in Washington, D.C. on June 2-5, 2022. It marked the second time the Conference has been held in the nation’s capital. The proud host of the conference was the Volunteer Council for the National Symphony Orchestra with the REACH at the Kennedy Center as the site of the conference sessions.

The Dallas delegation was led by Marena Gault, the President of AMSOV, and a past DSOL President. Marena was preceded in her Presidency by notable past presidents from Dallas including Heather Moore, Dolores Barzune and The Honorable Annette Strauss.

CECIL AND IDA GREEN YOUTH CONCERT SERIES

What Music Represents

Wednesday, October 12 .....10:00 and 11:30
Thursday, October 13 .....10:00 and 11:30

Conductor: Maurice Cohn

Do you ever think about what music can represent? From depicting animals like a peaceful swan, to describing an emotion like joy or anxiety, to capturing the energy of stars and colors, music can portray many things. Come hear the Dallas Symphony perform classics to guide us through many possibilities of what music can represent!

Please contact Carrie Denson, Youth Concert Chairman at densonmail@sbcglobal.net if you would like to volunteer to usher.

Other Dallas delegates included Venise Stuart, Immediate Past President of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra League, DSO Director of Volunteer Services Allison Brodnax, Karen Cox, Rose Gault and Deborah Brown.

Volunteer groups from all over North America who are passionate about supporting their symphony orchestras met for the three days of sessions discussing The Power of Music Reimagined and exploring what the future might hold for classical music in 2022 and beyond. Prominent speakers and exclusive venues were featured in full conference schedule.

Fall Meeting & Tea

The DSOL Fall Meeting and Tea will be held on Tuesday, September 1st at 1:00 p.m. at Arlington Hall, 3333 Turtle Creek Blvd., Dallas, 75219. Tea chair is Kay Weeks.

The featured performer is Cellist Jennifer Choi. Ms. Choi joined the Dallas Symphony Orchestra in September of 2019. She was a cello fellow at the New World Symphony from 2017-2018 and prior to joining the Dallas Symphony Orchestra, she held the position of section cellist at the Colorado Symphony from 2018-2019. Ms. Choi has performed as a soloist, chamber musician, and orchestral player across North America and Asia and has continued to gain recognition, especially for her versatility, deep tone, and committed playing. With a wide repertoire of knowledge, ranging from classical to contemporary music, Ms. Choi has performed concerts across a number of well-known venues such as Carnegie, Avery Fisher, and Alice Tully Halls at Lincoln Center.

The Tea is complimentary to DSOL members. RSVP’s are due by September 6 at kayweeks@ebby.com. If you wish to bring a guest, please pay $40 online at www.dallassymphonyleague.com.
